Graduate & Undergraduate Program

Are you studying computer science and looking for new and challenging tasks?

Do you want to put your academic knowledge into practice and shape the future with us in exciting software projects?

Do you want to learn more about new technologies and cutting-edge methods?

Then Validata is the right place for you working with our highly skilled dev team, where you can work on customer projects in a hands-on environment.

Validata Group is a fast-growing multinational company providing testing and quality control for banking software and financial systems, and development of automated testing solutions.

Skills & Technologies

- Front-end or Back-end Development (C#, Python, JavaScript)

- Agile Development

- Cloud Technologies (Azure, Google)

Profile

- Studying computer science or a similar course of study OR Degree in Computer Science/Software Engineering or equivalent

- Basic knowledge in software development

- Good verbal and written English

- Willingness and strong interest to learn & advance in new technologies

- Team-playing attitude and communication skills

What we offer

- Ability to work remotely

- Competitive compensation package

- If necessary, flexible working hours that can be adapted to your university schedule for undergraduates (20 hours a week would be great)

- A work laptop will be provided and a bonus to set up your home office

- Working on international projects

- Career opportunities

Are you ready? it's the best time to join us and shape our vision.

To submit your application please send your CV to recruit@validata-software.com with subject 'Sept2022'